INTRODUCTION

TO THE EIGHTEENTH EDITION

OF THE

Railway and Commercial Gazetteer.

THE Proprietors in issuing the Eighteenth Edition beg to say that the Railway Information, Conveyance Group, Population from last Census (1921), and Postal Intelligence have been thoroughly revised and corrected to present date, and no trouble or expense has been spared to make the Work as complete as possible in every respect.

They draw special attention to the Explanatory Notes on the following pages, and express the hope that this Edition will be found even more useful than the last. Testimony has been borne by the Forwarding Departments of Railway Companies, Shipping Agents, Warehousemen, Manufacturers, Traders, and the General Public to the great usefulness of the Book.

Against each Town, in the Conveyance column, is shown the letters representing the lines of the various sections of Railway Groups over which through traffic is carried thereto, and the information given may be relied upon as a safe guide in the selection of any route required.

The Proprietors have received valuable help from many sources, and avail themselves of this opportunity of thanking all who have rendered them any assistance.

January, 1927.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

The DISTANCES are taken from the principal Terminal Passenger Stations in London, as follows:—

Railway Group.	Terminal Passenger and Parcel Station.	Principal Goods Receiving Stations.	Letter in Conveyance from London Column.
Great Western	Paddington ...	Paddington ...	G
London, Midland, & Scottish—
L. & N. W. Section	Euston ...	Camden ...	A
Midland Section	St. Pancras ...	St. Pancras or Somers Town	H
London & North Eastern—

Great Eastern Section ...	Liverpool Street ...	Bishopsgate ...	E
Great Northern Section ...	King's Cross ...	King's Cross ...	F

S. E. & C. or Eastern Section	Charing Cross, Holborn Viaduct, or Victoria	Bricklayers' Arms, Blackfriars, or Stewart's Lane	C

In determining the CONVEYANCE GROUP the principle adopted has been to select those Lines only which have "THROUGH RATES" between London and the places named, preference being given, as far as possible, to those Companies having the most convenient route:

EXAMPLES:

BIRMINGHAM ...	Great Western 1 (G group).
	London, Midland, & Scottish (L. & N. W. Section) 2 (A group).

The POPULATION has been taken from the last (1921) census, and, as a general rule, the figures given are those of the Civil Parish; in a few cases, the County Borough, Municipal Borough, or Urban District, and, where no other figures are obtainable, the Ecclesiastical Parish. There are, however, a number of places for which no population is shown, and in explanation we quote from the Official Census Return, as follows:—

"There will be found names of about 18,000 places, such as villages, hamlets, and localities without legally defined boundaries for which the populations have not been, and in many cases cannot be, ascertained."

The examples given below illustrate the principle adopted in the cases of large cities and towns; the total population being shown under the city or town—also under its district in addition, thus:—

City or Town.	Total Population.	Districts shown separately. — Examples.	Population.
London	4,484,523	St. Pancras	211,366
Liverpool	802,940	Everton	124,414
Manchester	730,307	Salford	234,045
Birmingham	919,444	Edgbaston	30,116
Glasgow	1,034,174	Govan	372,112
Edinburgh	420,264	Leith	81,618

The RAILWAY STATIONS are shown in bolder type, Goods and Passenger Stations being distinguished.

There are a very large number of Towns and places of the same, or nearly the same, name—for example, there are 182 Newtons situated in 53 different counties, in addition to 52 Newtowns in 32 different counties, also 58 Uptons in 25 different counties—and a reference to this work will assist in arriving at any particular town or place required in Great Britain.
